RESOLUTION.

New Delhi, the 26th March 1932.

No. 213 (16) T. & E. (A. B.).—By Notification No. 213 (11) T. & E. (A. B.), of this date the 1st April 1932 has been appointed as the day on which the Indian Companies (Amendment) Act, 1930 (XIX of 1930), shall come into force and by Notification No. 213 (11) T. & E. (A. B.), of the same date the rules made under that Act have been published. In place of the Local Governments the Governor-General in Council becomes the statutory authority for the grant of certificates to persons entitling them to act as auditors of public companies in British India, and, at the same time, the qualifications required of applicants for such certificates and the regulations under which they will be granted have undergone radical alteration.

2. The Government of India recognise that an abrupt transition from the old to the new system might involve hardship to members of the accountancy profession and to persons already engaged on a course of training with a view to qualifying themselves for entry into that profession. Provision has accordingly been made in the law and in the statutory rules, and has been supplemented by administrative arrangements, by which it is hoped to avoid any difficulties which the change might otherwise have caused. The principal provisions of this nature to which the Government of India wish to call attention are the following:—

(1) Under section 3 of Act XIX of 1930 certificates granted by Local Governments before the 1st April 1932 entitling the holders, and all declarations made before that date by the Governor-General in Council entitling the members of any specified institution or association, to be appointed and to act as auditors of companies throughout British India remain valid until the 31st March 1933.

(2) Under the Auditor's Certificates Rules:—

(a) Any person who has obtained or shall in future obtain the Government Diploma in Accountancy awarded on the recommendation of the Accountancy Diploma Board, Bombay, is qualified for enrolment on the Register of Accountants without being required to satisfy the new tests now prescribed.

(b) Special concessions for the purposes of the written examinations and of service under articles, are given to persons who have before the 31st December 1934 passed the examination for the Government Diploma in Accountancy or an examination recognised as equivalent thereto by the regulations for the award of that Diploma.

(c) For a certain period from the 1st April 1932 Accountants permitted to take apprentices for training for the Government Diploma in Accountancy will be permitted to take Articled Clerk without being required to satisfy the new regulations governing service under articles.

(3) The First Examination prescribed by the new rules will be held for the first time in March or April 1933 and the first Final Examination in March or April 1935. In the meantime, examinations under the existing rules for the grant of the Government Diploma in Accountancy will continue to be held as at present until a date not later than the 31st December 1934; and the Accountancy Diploma Board will continue in existence for a certain period beyond that date for the purpose of making recommendations to the Government of Bombay for the award of the Government Diploma in Accountancy to any persons who may have passed the examination prescribed or recognised by the regulations governing the grant of that Diploma but may not have been able to complete the necessary practical training by the end of 1934.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the above Resolution be communicated to all local Governments and Administrations, the Finance Department, the Department of Education, Health and Lands, the Foreign and Political Department, the Auditor-General; the High Commissioner for India, London; the Indian Trade Commissioner, London; His Majesty's Trade Commissioner in India; the Director-General of Commercial Intelligence and Statistics, Calcutta; all Chambers of Commerce and Associations in India and Burma and all prospective members of the Indian Accountancy Board.

ORDERED also that it be published in the Gazette of India.

9. In sub-section (2) of section 66 of the said Act, for the words "one hundred rupees" the words "fifteen rupees" shall be substituted. Cf. Ib. S. 149.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

(1) The Income-tax Act was for the first time enacted in 1886, when it was said that a sum of about a crore of rupees was required owing to the deficit Budget created by the unusual outlay on the Burmese War and the sudden depreciation of silver. The tax was intended to be a temporary one. But it has since remained and now realizes over twenty times that amount. Similarly, the super-tax levied as a war measure has been made permanent. But the procedure for the levy of both is antiquated and summary and places an undue power in the hands of the assessing authorities who have been given the final right of hearing the so-called appeal of the assessee.

(2) Income and super-tax is more appropriate to creditor countries and to those in which commercial and industrial enterprise has led to the accumulation of capital from which the state may justly claim a share. But in a country primarily agricultural in which capital is naturally shy, and commercial and industrial enterprise comparatively recent and in a state of infancy the state should be loth to tax at least over-tax the circulation of capital, but this is now possibly a counsel of perfection.

(3) The intention of this Bill is, therefore, merely to remove the most glaring of defects in the method of assessment and its control leaving a future reformed rectifying the obvious wrong of a double super-tax and other anomalies from which the payers of income-tax suffer.

(4) For the present it is intended to bring the assessors under some popular and judicial control and partially redress the just major grievances of the assessees.

It is hoped that the Bill will receive general support and in some measure ameliorate the harshness and rigour of a taxing measure whose unpopularity has been pronouncedly increased by the mode and manner of its administration.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Clause 2.—In England the collecting agency is an independent body of patriotic citizens who levy the tax and hear appeals from the assessors' valuation and are generally entrusted with the administration of the Act; the result being that the tax odious though it is does not gain in its odiousness by its administration by the very persons interested in its collection.

(2) Under S. 57 of the English Tax Act, 1918, now in force, the income-tax is levied by the commissioners of Inland Revenue whose numbers ordinarily varies from 3 to 7 (S. 59) but which may be increased to 14 (Ib. S. 59). They are appointed for specified cities or divisions and possess the sole power to assess, collect and levy the income-tax (Ib. S. 64) and hear appeals against assessment (Ib. S. 133). Such commissioners are generally drawn from well-to-do classes. For special cases special commissioners are appointed and they possess the same right as general commissioners (Ib. S. 67).

The general commissioners appoint assessors for one year (Ib. S. 76), and the collector of taxes (Ib. S. 80).

(3) If the English procedure were followed the whole Act would have to be recast. It is not the intention of the present Act to do more than introduce an element of impartibility in the assessment of income-tax by providing that the assessor shall act with the concurrence of three or more assessors and that all appeals against his assessment shall lie to a court unconnected with the assessing department. This is the barest justice to the assessee who is entitled to much more and not anything else.

(4) The English law allows three appeals against an assessment—first to the special commissioners, secondly to the Recorder or County Court Judge and thirdly to the High Court (SS. 14-149). Under the Bill if passed provision is made only for a single appeal, but the High Court has been given the general power of revision which it possesses in all civil and criminal cases. In England the appeals lie to special commissioners. The Bill embodies the general spirit of the English Act though it does not adopt its machinery.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 18th February, 1932 :—

L. A. BILL No. 11 OF 1932.

A Bill to provide for the protection of the names "Khaddar" and "Khadi" used as trade descriptions of cloth spun and woven by hand in India.

WHEREAS the names "Khaddar" and "Khadi" have come to mean cloth which is spun and woven by hand in India;

AND WHEREAS it is desirable to protect the said names;

It is hereby enacted as follows :-

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Indian "Khaddar" (Name Protection) Act, 193 .

Definition of "Khaddar" and "Khadi".

2. In this Act, "Khaddar" and "Khadi" mean cloth which is spun and woven by hand in India.

Use of the names "Khaddar" and "Khadi" as trade descriptions on cloth.

3. The names "Khaddar" and "Khadi", whether in English or in any Indian vernacular language as exclusively signifying cloth spun and woven in India by hands, shall be deemed to be trade descriptions within the meaning of the Indian Merchandise Marks Act, 1889.

IV of 1889.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Considerable progress has been made in recent years in reviving and popularising as a cottage industry spinning and weaving by hand as a supplementary occupation among the agriculturist population of this country, who stand in need of an additional source of income. Such progress as has been achieved is very largely supported by the patriotic impulse of the poorer and well-to-do classes who are purchasing Khaddar, or Khadi even at a sacrifice. The situation is sought to be taken advantage of by manufacturers of spurious Khaddar both in India and abroad, and purchasers have been frequently misled to the detriment of what might easily become a great national industry. The Bill, therefore, seeks to extend the protection afforded by the Merchandise Marks Act, 1889, to the names "Khaddar" and "Khadi" which have come to denote hand spun and handwoven cloth only. The exclusive use of these terms for this cloth cannot prejudicially affect bona fide producers or distributors of any other variety of cloth.

Saving.

13. Nothing contained in this Act shall be deemed to derogate from any of the provisions of the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1923.

XXI of 1923.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to provide for the employment of Indian tonnage in the coastal traffic of British India and of the Continent of India. This Bill is intended to serve as a powerful aid to the rapid development of an Indian Merchant Marine. Several attempts made in this direction in the past have all practically failed, owing, it is believed, to the existence of powerful non-Indian interests in the coasting trade of India. There can be no doubt that the growth of an Indian Merchant Marine would prove a powerful factor in the employment of Indian talent in various directions in a manner calculated to advance the national interests of India.

This Bill was introduced in the last Assembly by Mr. Sarabhai N. Haji, M.L.A., and was referred to a Select Committee whose report was presented to the House. The Bill then lapsed owing to the dissolution of the Assembly. The draft of the Bill now submitted is the same as was approved by the Select Committee.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 18th February, 1932 :—

L. A. Bill No. 22 of 1932.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Registration Act, 1908.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Registration Act, 1908 ; it is hereby enacted as follows :— XVI of 1908.

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Registration (Amendment) Act, 193 .

(2) It extends to the whole of British India except such districts or tracts of country as the Local Government may exclude from its operation.

Amendment of section 11, Act XVI of 1908.

2. In section 11 of the Indian Registration Act, 1908, the words "on duty in his district" shall be omitted. XVI of 1908.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Under section 6 of the Indian Registration Act, the Local Government make all permanent appointments to the office of Registrar. In some cases the persons appointed are public officers who perform registration duties by virtue of their office in addition to their other duties. In the Punjab, the Deputy Commissioner in administrative charge of the district for the time being has been appointed by the Local Government as an ex-officio Registrar of each district. The duties of a Deputy Commissioner are so numerous that he is compelled to remain absent from the office although present at the headquarters. Under section 11, he cannot delegate his duties of a Registrar to any of his subordinates. This results in a good deal of inconvenience and expense to the public as well as to the district officials. It is proposed to so amend the section as to remove this hardship.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 18th February, 1932 :—

L. A. Bill No. 25 OF 1932.

A Bill to repeal the Special Marriage (Amendment) Act, 1923.

WHEREAS it is expedient to repeal the Special Marriage (Amendment) Act, 1923 ; it is hereby enacted as follows : — XXX of 1923.

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Special Marriage (Amendment) Repealing Act, 193 .

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, including British Baluchistan and the Sonthal Parganas.

Repeal of Act XXX of 1923.

2. The Special Marriage (Amendment) Act, 1923, is hereby repealed. XXX of 1923.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Special Marriage Act of 1872 was originally intended to meet the urgent demand of the Brahmos and other Hindu Dissenters as their legal position at the time regarding marriages was found to be that "no form of marriage legally constituted and valid beyond all doubt or question was provided for them." In meeting this restricted position the late Sir Henry Maine attempted to make the question the opportunity for passing a Civil Marriage Act of a most comprehensive nature, and in doing so he proceeded on an entirely mistaken view of the position of the Indian Law in this country, as was later pointed out by Sir James Fitz Stephen, for he believed that that position so far as it related to the Hindu or for the matter of that the Muhammadan religion depended on certain phrases incautiously used in the earlier legislative enactments. The result was that the Bill had the effect of introducing a great change into Native Law ", and involved interference with "Native social relations ", which under the circumstances was considered by the Government of the day to be unjustifiable. The Act was, therefore, confined to its original purpose and it is worthy of note that even this more modest measure admittedly intended to redress an undoubted grievance, met with very great opposition, not only among the un-thinking masses, but some of the most intelligent men in the land—men who occupied very high and distinguished positions, such as the late Sir T. Muthusami Aiyar, Honourable Mr. Ramaiengar and others. Subsequent to the passing of the Act, attempts were made to amend it on two different occasions, but at each time with a different purpose. Both the attempts failed, thanks to the firm attitude of the Government towards social legislation, which they adopted a century ago "with great deliberation, adhered to with great pertinacity, and supported by the strongest reasons."

Subsequent to the introduction of the Reforms, Sir Hari Singh Gour renewed the attempts unsuccessfully made by his predecessors, and they were attended with partial success by the enactment of the Act XXX of 1923, though it fell far short of a Civil Marriage Act, which was the original idea underlying the Bill. A reference, however, to the Objects and Reasons for the Bill which was eventually passed as Act XXX of 1923, the various speeches made in support of it and the subsequent attempts to enlarge its scope shows a want of clear appreciation of the actual legal position and the real objective of the learned mover. At first he put it on the ground of the necessity of a Civil Marriage Law in order, as he later explained, to ensure for the Indian an international status, a perfectly understandable position, whether one agrees with it or not. What, however, he failed to perceive is that while even in Europe, Civil Marriage was only a comparatively recent institution, and as far as the eye could stretch it is difficult to foresee a time when the necessity of the form of a religious marriage would or could be dispensed with in India, and that, therefore, nothing in the Western world has any relevancy towards the Indian marriage laws or bearing on them. Be this as it may, the proposed measure being of an optional nature, it was absolutely useless for international recognition. As has been pointed out by the Honourable the Law Member in his vigorous speech of the third February last, "in order to secure international recognition it is necessary that it should be a compulsory measure so as to show that in India there is a compulsory Law ensuring monogamy and, therefore, deserving of international recognition." So far, therefore, the argument based on international advantage falls to the ground.

When, however, in spite of all these, the measure was actually introduced in the Legislative Assembly, it met with so great an opposition, especially among the Muhammadans that the author found it prudent and necessary to exclude them, and to confine his attentions to the disorganised and much abused Hindu Social Laws, thus curtailing the universality of the Bill, and casting to the winds the last vestige of its character as a Civil Marriage Law for purposes of international recognition. This converted the original measure into a frankly Social Reform Legislation.

Now, it is an admitted fact that in India marriage is a socio-religious institution, more religious than social, and if you desired to interfere with it by any means of legislation, you must conform to some essential conditions, the most important of which is that ' there must be very strong and conclusive evidence that the change is demanded by the people who are affected." It is a singular circumstance that from the beginning up to now, no claim was made either by the author of the Bill, or its supporters that the measure has such a demand, or that they had before their minds this necessary condition precedent to any legislation of this nature. Every Local Government, every responsible public body or man, that was consulted not only denied that there was any such demand or desire, but anticipated strong resentment and opposition which only became too true. The opinion of the Government of Bombay expressed through their spokesman, the present Home Member, is typical of the clear and unambiguous attitude of Local Governments in this matter, that the measure was not only not demanded by the public most affected by it, but that it has not even secured any large support from any section of the country, excepting certain advanced and so-called enlightened elements. Even the Legislative Assembly at first rejected the motion to refer the Bill to a Select Committee. It was during its Simla Session when there were not many Members present that the Bill was passed. Even so, if only a few of the Members who had originally voted against the Bill had continued firm, the Bill would have met with the only fate it deserved, viz., (total rejection). Even those, who later supported the measure in the Legislative Assembly, avowedly did so not because the measure was in accordance with Hindu sentiment or that there was any general demand on their part, but because there were other considerations, such as freedom of conscience—as if it was honest or conscientious to hold out to the world that a man is a Hindu when as a matter of fact, he is not, by his having rejected every canon and injunction of that religion. As a social legislation, the measure was thus vitiated by the absence of the fundamental conditions justifying its being undertaken. The learned author then fell back upon a recital of other advantages which his Bill would secure to the Hindu community, and these have since been thoroughly exposed to be illusory.

More than all these the Bill contains certain glaring inconsistencies which the learned author never attempted to rectify. Whereas under the old Act a man continued to be governed by Hindu Law for purposes of inheritance, etc., in spite of his declaration that he was not a Hindu, under the amendment, as eventually passed in 1923, though he had not to make any such declaration and was thus enabled to and did continue a Hindu—yet he was to be governed by the Indian Succession Act. The anomaly created by the Indian Majority Act has been admitted by Sir Hari Singh Gour himself, and his attempt to get rid of it has been negatived by this Assembly. Since the passing of the Act about eight years ago, there is no evidence that any large section of the country has taken advantage of it. It is a blot on the Legislature that such an imperfect, inconsistent, uncalled for, mischievous piece of legislation should be allowed to continue in the Statute-book. The present Bill is, therefore, introduced to repeal it. The above, in short, are reasons for effecting the object.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Dacca, the 29th March 1932.

Forecast of the Rabi crops of Bengal for 1931-32.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1929-30, the area under summer rice in Bengal has represented some 0·5 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India.)

Character of the season.—At the outset the rainfall in October and the first part of November was in excess of the normal. The preparatory tillage and sowings of the crops, which commenced generally in the usual time, were a little delayed in some East and North Bengal districts. Subsequently dry weather since the second week of November proved helpful to the germination and growth of the crops, but the drought, being prolonged up till the end of January, has affected the growth of the early crops to some extent while late sown crops have been benefited by the light rainfall in February. On the whole, the season has been satisfactory for the crops this year.

Acreage.—The normal area under the different rabi crops dealt with in this forecast is estimated at 3,417,000 acres. The area actually sown this year is reported to be 2,981,600 acres as against 2,865,600 acres last year. Of this, the area under summer (boro) rice is returned at 394,400 acres as against 379,600 acres last year, and that under tobacco is 292,800 acres as against 283,900 acres last year.

Outturn.—According to District Officers' estimates, the average outturn of the different rabi crops for the province as a whole works out at 79 per cent. of the normal as against 82 per cent. last year, the outturns for the more important rabi districts being as follows:—

Mymensingh 75, Dacca 61, Rangpur 100, Faridpur 95, Murshidabad 73, Pabna 72, Noakhali 75, Malda 69, Jalpaiguri 90, Rajshahi 83, Khulna 90, Bakarganj 77, Nadia 64, Tippera 79, Jessore 75, Burdwan 85 and Midnapore 75.

Summer rice and tobacco crops.—The outturn of summer rice, according to district estimates, is 75 per cent. of the normal as against 80 per cent. last year. The gross yield of the crop for the province, on a basis of the normal yield of 14 maunds of clean grain per acre, is estimated at 152,100 tons this year as against 156,200 tons last year.

The outturn of tobacco crop is estimated at 93 per cent. of the normal as against 94 per cent. last year. Taking 12¼ maunds as the normal yield of the crop per acre, the gross yield of the crop for the province this year is estimated at 122,500 tons as against 120,100 tons last year.

Post-Graduate Research Scholarships to be awarded in 1932.

Three Post-Graduate Scholarships will be awarded for the encouragement of original research to candidates who have high and special qualifications and appear to be likely to conduct original research with success. The value of each scholarship is Rs. 75 a month.

2. Ordinarily one scholarship will be awarded annually to a student who proposes to carry on original research in scientific subjects, including such branches as natural and physical science, chemistry, mathematical science, etc., and another scholarship will similarly be awarded for research in literary subjects, including such branches as languages, comparative philology, palæography, epigraphy, philosophy, history, archæology, anthropology, etc., and the third scholarship will be awarded for research either in scientific or in literary subjects. No application for a research scholarship will be considered unless a candidate submits certificates showing that he has the capacity for undertaking the research proposed and a programme of work indicating a definite course of enquiry.

3. Election will be made in the first instance for one year only, with effect from the 1st July 1932, but a scholarship may be renewed from year to year, up to the limit of three years, provided the scholar has throughout the year vigorously prosecuted original research in the subject selected by him.

THE Bengal and Madras Service Family Pension Fund which is provisionally managed and assisted by Government has for its object the provision of monthly pensions for the maintenance of the widows and children of subscribers and is open, with certain exceptions, to all active and pensioned members of the Uncovenanted service of Government (except those serving under the Government of Bombay), and to Local Fund servants earning pensions from Government. Some of the special features of the fund are (1) that widowed daughters incapable of remarriage or children labouring under such mental or bodily infirmities as incapacitate them from earning their livelihood or preclude the possibility of marriage (in case of a daughter) are admitted to its benefits; and (2) that subscribers to the Widows' and Daughters' branches are entitled to a refund of 30 per cent. of the premia paid, should the nominee predecease them after five years of admission. The second quinquennial valuation of the Fund has been completed by the actuary to the Government of India, and his report discloses very favourable results. For forms of application and rules of the Fund apply to the Accountant-General, Bengal, Imperial Secretariat Buildings, Calcutta.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Dacca, the 5th April 1932.

Third Forecast of the Wheat Crop of Bengal, 1931-32.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1929-30, the area under wheat in Bengal has represented some 0·4 per cent. of the total area under wheat in India. The ratio of the irrigated wheat acreage to total wheat acreage in (a) British India and (b) in the territory now reported on has, in the five years ending 1929-30, averaged. (a) 39·7 and (b) 11·2 per cent., respectively.)

Character of the season.—In the important districts of Nadia, Murshidabad and Malda, where more than half of the total area is occupied by the crop, drought has affected the outturn; elsewhere the weather was generally favourable. On the whole, the season may be regarded as a satisfactory one for the crop this year.

Acreage.—According to District Officers' estimates the total area sown amounts to 145,200 acres this year as against 142,900 acres, both in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Outturn.—The average outturn for the province, as worked out from district estimates, is 82 per cent. of the normal as against 78 and 75 per cent. in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Taking the normal yield to be 8¾ maunds per acre, the gross yield of the crop for the province is estimated at 38,300 tons this year as against 35,800 and 34,400 tons in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

R. S. FINLOW,

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS.

For the week ending on the 6th April 1932.

Summary.—Excepting light and scattered showers in a few districts of the Burdwan, Dacca and Chittagong Divisions the week was practically rainless. Rain is badly needed for the field operations for jute and paddy. Reaping of spring crops is almost completed. State and prospects of standing crops are generally fair. Distress continues to prevail in parts of Rangpur, Bogra, Pabna and Mymensingh where 1,876, 665, 2,663 and 1,116 persons, respectively, attended the test relief works. In Mymensingh 158 persons received gratuitous relief. The average price of common rice for the Province has fallen by about 0·15 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week.

For this purpose, he shall visit the several areas or localities within his jurisdiction, both systematically at certain periods and at intervals, as occasion may require.

9. On receiving information of the outbreak of any infectious or epidemic disease within his jurisdiction, he shall visit without delay the locality where the outbreak has occurred and inquire into the causes and circumstances of such outbreak; and in case he is not satisfied that all due precautions are being taken, he shall advise the persons competent to act as to the measures which appear to him to be required to prevent the extension of the disease and shall take such measures for the prevention of disease as he is legally authorized to take under any law in force in the district or by any resolution of the district board, subject to the District Health Officer's instructions.

15. In order to facilitate the adoption of measures for reducing the prevalence of malaria fever, he shall make a careful survey of the distribution of malaria in his jurisdiction. 16. He shall personally attend with the subordinate public health staff all important fairs and religious festivals, agricultural and industrial exhibitions and other large gatherings held in his jurisdiction and arrange for the erection of temporary latrine accommodation and the protection of the water-supply, in order to guard against the occurrence of water-borne disease.

To deal with and hear applications to dispense with the copy of the judgment, under Order XLI, Rule I of the Civil Procedure Code and Chapters V and VI, Rules 3 and 10, respectively, of the Rules of Court.

Chapter VI (revised).

I. Cancel Rules 3, 6, 8 and 10 at pages 1 and 2, and substitute therefor the following :—

Rule 3.

Matters relating to (1) service of notices or other processes; (2) substitution of parties and appointment or discharge of next friends or guardians ad litem of minors or persons of unsound mind, before the admission of an appeal; (3) preparation of paper-books; and (4) return of documents, and matters not expressly required to be laid before the Division Court for orders shall be dealt with and disposed of by the Registrar.

Rule 6.

Notice of an application under the preceding rule shall be given by the applicant or his Advocate by delivering to the proper person (ordinarily the Advocate for the appearing opposite party) a copy of the petition, together with a notice in the following form :—

> Take notice that this application will be filed with the proper officer of the Court, and that you are required to attend and show cause against the application at the hearing, if you desire to do so.

Rule 8.

Every petition under Order XLV, Rule 2, Civil Procedure Code, shall be presented to the Stamp Reporter. Such petition shall be accompanied by—

(1) a court-fee of Rs. 16 for drawing up an estimate of the expense of preparing and forwarding to the Registrar of the Privy Council the record of the case;

Where more than one such application is made by the same party at the same time relating to decrees or final orders made in pursuance of the same judgment and only one record is required to be printed, the Registrar may order that only one court-fee of Rs. 16 be paid or that one certified copy of the judgment be accepted, or may refer the matter to the Court for orders.

II. Insert the following after Rule 16, at page 4:—

Rule 16A.

On the receipt of a report from the Court of first instance under Order XLV, Rule 5, Civil Procedure Code, as to the amount or value of the subject-matter of the suit and of the proposed appeal, notice shall forthwith be given to the applicant and to the appearing respondents, and any party objecting to the report shall, within seven days from the date of the notice, file his objections, if any, and also serve a copy thereof on the other side. Calcutta, the 8th April 1932.

Post-Graduate Research Scholarships to be awarded in 1932.

Three Post-Graduate Scholarships will be awarded for the encouragement of original research to candidates who have high and special qualifications and appear to be likely to conduct original research with success. The value of each scholarship is Rs. 75 a month.

2. Ordinarily one scholarship will be awarded annually to a student who proposes to carry on original research in scientific subjects, including such branches as natural and physical science, chemistry, mathematical science, etc., and another scholarship will similarly be awarded for research in literary subjects, including such branches as languages, comparative philology, palæography, epigraphy, philosophy, history, archæology, anthropology, etc., and the third scholarship will be awarded for research either in scientific or in literary subjects. No application for a research scholarship will be considered unless a candidate submits certificates showing that he has the capacity for undertaking the research proposed and a programme of work indicating a definite course of enquiry.

3. Election will be made in the first instance for one year only, with effect from the 1st July 1932, but a scholarship may be renewed from year to year, up to the limit of three years, provided the scholar has throughout the year vigorously prosecuted original research in the subject selected by him.

4. Each candidate for a scholarship should submit his application, through the head of the institution in which he last studied, to the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, on or before the 10th May next, and must produce evidence of having passed from a College or other institution in Bengal the M.A. or M.Sc. examination of the Calcutta or Dacca University, or of having obtained some other equivalent or higher degree of either of these Universities in 1929, or 1930 or 1931. He must state as definitely as possible the subject or part of a subject in which he intends, if elected to a scholarship, to carry on his original investigation. He must also state the name of the institution in which he proposes to work, with evidence that the authorities of the institution are able and willing to provide facilities for him, or if no institution is mentioned, the circumstances or conditions under which he proposes to work should be stated.

5. Each candidate is required to submit with his application a declaration to the effect that, if selected, he will not study law or prepare himself for any competitive examination during the tenure of his scholarship.

6. Applications for this year's scholarships should be submitted in prescribed forms which are obtainable from the Personal Assistant to the Director of Public Instruction, Writers' Buildings, Calcutta.

CALCUTTA, THE 12TH APRIL 1932.

RESOLUTION No. 1823L.S.-G.

Minister-in-charge: The Hon'ble Mr. Bijoy Prasad Singh Roy.

District and local boards.—The framework of district board organisation remained unchanged with 26 district boards and a membership in all of 683, of whom 429 were members elected by local boards. The District Magistrate remained Chairman of the District Boards of Bankura, Midnapore and Mymensingh, three districts with abnormal features in the record of the past two or three years: but elsewhere Chairmen were elected except in Darjeeling where the Chairman of the District Board has always been appointed. The total number of meetings was 402; but this figure is not a true index of deliberative activities as so much of the district board work is done through the standing committees. The total number of local boards increased from 82 to 84 through the formation of two sanctioned in Jalpaiguri and Malda districts in the previous year, and their total membership numbered 1,385. They continued to function as electoral colleges for district boards and local agencies for the expenditure of delegated funds; but it is not to be assumed for this reason that they have ceased to fill a useful purpose as deliberative bodies for the subdivisional area and as intermediaries between union board and district board.

2. Financial features.—The total receipts of district boards, which had already shown a marked decline in 1929-30, decreased by a further sum of 1 lakh to 1·48 crores in 1930-31. With the impending depression some decrease was inevitable, but the figures are more marked than appears, for the receipts from Government grants within this total actually rose by over 3 lakhs to Rs. 45,71,088. In the economics of local self-government, it certainly is disquieting to see district boards deriving year by year proportionately less of their revenue from local taxation and local receipts and more from grants from the provincial budget, a feature which will be still more marked in the accounts for 1931-32. The total expenditure practically balanced total receipts with a decrease of 4 lakhs on the figures for the previous year.

3. Education.—The income and expenditure amount to Rs. 21·5 lakhs and Rs. 36 lakhs against Rs. 22 lakhs and Rs. 37·5 lakhs respectively in the previous year. The receipts from Government contribution were about Rs. 21 lakhs. The expenditure on primary education alone was Rs. 29 lakhs. The number of upper and lower primary schools maintained and aided by district boards increased from 49,090 to 49,471. The number of boys and girls attending these schools was about 1,340,000 and 356,000 respectively. Primary education suffered a good deal owing to the economic difficulties during the later months of the year when district boards had perforce to withhold grants. This inability to raise funds led to the abandonment during the year of two schools, one in Midnapore and one in Faridpur, which had been sanctioned on the basis of Mr. Biss's recommendation. The danger of a real setback will, however, be greatly diminished if it is found possible to bring certain provisions of the Primary Education Act into force in the near future in selected districts. There were 51 industrial schools maintained and aided by district boards imparting instruction to some 1,900 pupils in various subjects, including carpentry, smithy, wicker work, dyeing and weaving.

4. Public health and medical relief.—The outstanding feature in expenditure under this head is that as contributions from the provincial budget increase, district boards are not only failing to find proportionate additional funds themselves—with their limited resources this might be difficult—but are already tending to disregard the condition that their own expenditure on district health should not be reduced on receipt of Government grants. In 1926-27 before rural health units existed, the boards spent in all Rs. 22 lakhs on "Medical" and "Public Health," including Government grants of Rs. 3·84 lakhs or Rs. 18·16 lakhs of their own funds. In 1929-30 the boards spent on the same objects Rs. 31·7 lakhs including Government grants of Rs. 11·11 lakhs or Rs. 20·59 lakhs net. In 1930-31 the reverse tendency had begun to show itself and with Government grants of Rs. 13·87 lakhs the boards spent in all only Rs. 33·2 lakhs on "Medical" and "Public Health," these figures representing a decrease of Rs. 1·26 lakhs in their own expenditure on these objects. It is already clear that this tendency also will grow more acute in 1931-32 and it makes a new problem in defining the conditions of Government grants for these purposes.

The scheme for rural health units, to which much attention has been given in the resolutions for recent years, is now practically complete. The number of health circles corresponding to police thanas has reached the maximum of 575, though the actual expenditure on each is still a good deal short of the estimated ultimate cost of Rs. 2,000 per annum. On the whole the benefits of the scheme have come fully up to expectations, the Sanitary Inspectors providing both a local inspecting and precautionary agency in matters of public health and a mobile force within the district available for concentration on emergency measures on the occasion of a serious epidemic. Steps are being taken to define more closely the status and functions of these officers by statutory rules. The weak point of the scheme at present lies in the inadequacy of supervision, especially in the larger districts.

The record of public health for the year will be more appropriately dealt with in the resolution on public health. Increased attention to the problem of leprosy is noticed in the Bankura and Midnapore District Boards. Vaccination services continued on the usual level, but the special effort for vaccination of the whole population in four or five years has not materialised. District health authorities pushed on with cholera vaccination, especially on the occasion of epidemics; but met with little response in this task in districts not immediately affected, the figures for inoculation in Khulna for instance decreasing from 82,000 to 25,000.

Institutional medical relief was afforded by a chain of dispensaries which, with the stimulus of the grant for village thana dispensaries, now extends to almost every thana in the province. The radical problem in the provision of hospital treatment in the districts lies in fact now not so much in increasing the number of outlying dispensaries as in improving the standard of the headquarters hospital, so as to provide one really well equipped hospital in each district; and this naturally goes rather beyond the medical activities of district boards.

The tendency to divert funds available for medical relief to subsidising ayurvedic, unani and homœopathic dispensaries is still in evidence and Government would again emphasise the need for caution in this policy of enlisting this cheaper, and sometimes more popular, type of medical aid in place of the qualified licentiate.

5. Veterinary.—Two years ago district boards were relieved of expenditure of about Rs. 70,000 per annum on the purchase of serum with the idea that the amount saved would be applied to their veterinary work. Their expenditure on veterinary services promptly fell from Rs. 2,12,500 to Rs. 1,78,000 and decreased further in the year under review to Rs. 1,67,227. Naturally in these circumstances no expansion was possible beyond the scale of work in previous years.

6. Civil works.—In last year's resolution comment was made on the continuous decrease since 1926-27 in expenditure on the unattractive but very necessary head of "Public Works." This tendency continued, and the total expenditure of Rs. 54 lakhs on "Civil Works" represents a further decrease of no less than Rs. 4·5 lakhs on last year's total, with the result that the district boards in 1930-31 spent over Rs. 10 lakhs less on public works than in 1926-27, which serves usefully as a standard year. Of the total expenditure Rs. 4 lakhs were spent on buildings, Rs. 67 lakhs on water-supply and Rs. 31 lakhs on communications, the latter alone showing a decrease of Rs. 2 lakhs on last year's figures. It is all very well to blame motor traffic for the deterioration of district board roads, but the fact remains that out of a total expenditure on all heads of the budget in 1930-31 Rs. 7 lakhs in excess of that for 1926-27, the district boards spent Rs. 5·5 lakhs less than their expenditure in that year on the head of communications. Detailed scrutiny of the variations in individual boards and of the general trend of funds diverted from communications would go beyond the scope of the annual resolution, but obviously there is something fundamentally wrong in the road policy of district boards when figures like this appear simultaneously with repeated complaints about excessive wear and tear of the main roads. On the other hand, three district boards in the Rajshahi Division were able to effect an unexpected amount of earthwork on roads in the shape of famine relief.

7. Water-supply.—Expenditure on water-supply decreased from Rs. 7,59,000 to Rs. 6,73,000—a decrease of a lakh and a half in two years which it is a little difficult to understand. The postponement of half the Government grant for water-supply from 1928-29 to 1929-30 may have contributed to erratic figures, though the grant is not paid directly to district boards. There has not been much enthusiasm for the scheme of water-supply loans with a grant in reduction of interest for which Rs. 6,00,000 was provided in the provincial budget for 1930-31: while at the same time the financial crisis which occurred in that year made it necessary to surrender the greater part of this provision and slow down the whole policy. In the present abnormal financial position both of Government and the boards it is to be feared that the scheme has received its quietus for a year or two. A good deal of activity is reported in sinking tube-wells, noticeably in Jessore where 301 wells were sunk and in Mymensingh where tube-wells had fallen out of favour two or three years ago.

8. General remarks.—It is to be remembered that the year under review is that in which the financial depression first made itself acutely felt; and if the activities of a good many district boards were seriously disorganised for this reason they may well claim that their experience was much the same as that of Government itself On the other hand, up to the end of the financial year 1930-31 Government were able to maintain the scale of annual recurring grants for education, public health and general purposes up to the standard of previous years and to meet without check the expanding liability on account of the increase of rural health units This policy, it may be added, has been continued through the far greater financial stress of the year 1931-32

The year was not remarkable for any administrative change in the relations between Government and district boards Mention should, however, be made of a Conference of Chairmen of District Boards held in Darjeeling in October 1930 under the Chairmanship of the Hon'ble Nawab K G M Faroqui, Khan Bahadur, then Minister-in-charge of Local Self Government, to advise on the revision of the Local Self-Government Act A Bill based on the recommendations of this Conference has recently been introduced in the Bengal Legislative Council

The year under review coincides with the period of the Civil Disobedience Movement, and it is noticeable to how small an extent the ordinary functioning of district boards was affected by the political upheaval With the exception of one or two districts the Chairmen threw their weight loyally on the side of Government, and ebullitions of hostile feeling in the shape of resolutions and adjournments were, all things considered, remarkably few, while the routine machinery and permanent staff of the boards continued to function normally It may fairly be claimed that in the sphere of local self-government one of the results of this abnormal year was to reveal the district boards as responsible, and self respecting local authorities occupied with their own administrative functions and little influenced in their practical working by political and partisan forces. If not entirely immune from the wave of excitement which passed through the country, the district boards continued to play their part effectively notwithstanding it, in an atmosphere of matter-of-fact attention to the responsibilities of their position in the local self-government system.

The Minister in charge of Local Self-Government would take this opportunity of adding to the tributes to the late Mr. Peddie, which have already appeared, his appreciation of the services rendered by him as appointed Chairman of the Midnapore District Board

*Revenue Accounts not opened.

3. General.—The total capital expenditure of the department in the year 1930-31 was nearly Rs. 19,00,000 after deducting recoveries amounting to Rs. 3,60,358.

The only important new projects under construction during the year under report were (1) the Damodar Canal which is an irrigation work designed to supply water to about 200,000 acres of land in the districts of Burdwan and Hooghly, (2) the Bakreswar Project—a small irrigation work in the district of Birbhum which was nearly completed during the year, and (3) the construction of locks and sluices on the Lower Kumar river which forms part of the Madaripur Bil Route which provides a short cut on the steamer traffic from Calcutta to East Bengal and Assam.

Lack of funds has rendered it impossible for the department to carry out any of the other major schemes which are ready for execution as soon as funds permit, or even to investigate, excepting in a few cases, the numerous problems which await solution. The following is a list of important works which have been administratively approved after investigation :—

(1) Re-excavation of the Aliapur khal (Khulna).

(2) Berai Irrigation project (Birbhum).

(3) Sâtkahonia Irrigation scheme (Burdwan).

(4) Raising the Damodar left embankment from 0 to 4 miles (Burdwan).

(5) Construction of a sluice at Kalinagar (Midnapore).

(6) Widening the Burhani khal (Bakarganj).

(7) Construction of paved escapes in the Cossye embankment.

(8) Kowri and Champa khal Irrigation scheme known as Jhargram project (Midnapore).

(9) Dolai khal scheme (Dacca).

(10) Constructing a sluice at Baitgarh in the 11th mile of the Shamchak embankment, Schedule D No. 40 (Midnapore).

The expenditure on the revenue account during the year amounted to about 28¼ lakhs of rupees of which about Rs. 2¾ lakhs were spent on irrigation works proper, the principal items being the Midnapore and the Eden Canals. The expenditure on the Midnapore Canal was Rs. 2,14,682 which included Rs. 34,159 for the construction of a Stoney's shutter in the Midnapore weir. The rest of the expenditure was on navigation, embankment and drainage works. The expenditure on navigation was mainly for maintenance of the steamer and boat routes leading from Calcutta to Eastern Bengal and Assam and for reconstruction of the bridges over the Calcutta Canals, to the cost of which the Calcutta Improvement Trust and the Calcutta Corporation contribute in certain cases where improved bridges are required. The expenditure on the Sundarbans Steamer Route was heavy (above Rs. 4 lakhs) owing mainly to the cost of dredging and repairs of the dredgers attached to this work and that on the Madaripur Bil Route was nearly Rs. 3 lakhs and that on the bridges over the Calcutta Canals about Rs. 1½ lakhs. There was also an expenditure of Rs. 27,000 on silt clearance of the Hijili Tidal Navigation Canal.

This department is in charge of about 1,255 miles of embankments involving recurring charges for maintenance. Fortunately, there were no serious floods entailing abnormal repairs during the year. The expenditure on these embankments came to about Rs. 7,34,000.

There were no additions to the length of public embankments and the policy of gradually abandoning those protective embankments which have been found to have an injurious effect, was continued and a length of about 34 miles was abandoned during the year. The amount spent on the maintenance of drainage works, such as the Magra Hat Drainage Project, came to about Rs. 80,000.

The following is a list of important works under execution or in charge of the Irrigation Department :—

(1) Construction of the Damodar Canal project.

(2) Maintaining the Calcutta and Eastern Canals.

(3) Maintaining the Tolly's Nala and Kowrapukar khal.

(4) Maintaining Sundarbans Steamer Route.

(5) Maintaining the Magra Hat drainage project.

(6) Construction of the Dhutkhali sluice.
(7) Maintaining the Midnapore Canal.
(8) Maintaining the Hijili Tidal Canal.
(9) Maintaining the Orissa Coast Canal.
(10) Maintaining the Eden Canal.
(11) Maintaining the Amta drainage project.
(12) Remodelling the Hoorhoora khal.
(13) Maintaining the Rajapur and Burrojola drainage works.
(14) Maintaining the Dankuni drainage works.
(15) Maintaining the Madaripur Bil Route.
(16) Maintaining the Lower Kumar river.
(17) Construction of locks and sluices in the Madaripur and Lower Kumar river.
(18) Maintaining the Arool Bil drainage works.
(19) Dredging the river Attrabanka.
(20) Maintaining Bullee Bil drainage works.
(21) Maintaining the inner and the outer boat route.
(22) Constructing and maintaining the brick mattress at Serajganj.
(23) Construction of the Gobra Nala Cut.
(24) Bandalling the Bhagirathi river.
(25) Maintaining the Sarda revetment.
(26) Construction of the Bakreswar Canal.
(27) Maintaining the Amjore weir.
(28) Maintaining the Salbund weir.
(29) Maintaining 1,255 miles of embankments in the districts of 24-Parganas, Midnapore, Burdwan, Hooghly and Tippera.
(30) Conservancy of the Ganges from Rajmahal to Goalundo.
(31) Training the Mahananda river.
(32) Bandalling the Dhalleswari with its feeders and Buriganga rivers.

The last three works are carried out by the Joint Steamer Companies on behalf of this department.

The revenue receipts showed a decrease due in most cases to unfavourable economic conditions. For instance, the estimated value of goods carried by the Calcutta and Eastern Canals was 4,21 lakhs of rupees as against 6,18 lakks, the annual average for the preceding triennium. The tonnage came to 6½ lakhs as against the average of over 7 lakhs. The capital and revenue accounts include receipts on account of hire earned by the dredger "Ronaldshay" now working for the Government of India in the Andamans. This amounted to Rs. 4,75,309 altogether during the year.

One of the most difficult problems with which this department is to deal is the protection of towns from erosion of the great rivers. Only when circumstances are favourable and the expenses not prohibitive, it is possible to achieve success in this direction. In the year under report a brick mattress was constructed at Sirajganj to protect the town from erosion and the result was for the time being successful.

The recommendations of the Irrigation Department Committee for the formation of a separate Waterways Trust to deal with navigation in Bengal were under consideration. The bodies consulted were in general agreement with the proposal to form a Waterways Trust. The Trust would not, however, be able to deal effectively with the numerous problems connected with the 20,000 miles of waterways in Bengal unless it has adequate resources and is established on a firm financial basis. Government considered that this aspect of the matter required further examination before effect is given to the proposal.

4. The Damodar Canal Project.—The total capital expenditure to the end of the year 1930-31 (direct and indirect) amounted to Rs. 61,83,058 against the estimated cost of Rs. 78,14,981. The construction work is nearing completion and it is expected that the canal will be partially opened in 1932. A revised estimate for the project is under preparation for submission to the Government of India. His Excellency the Governor of Bengal paid a visit to the Headworks of the canal on the 17th January 1931.

5. The Bakreswar Irrigation Scheme (Birbhum).—The work was nearly completed during the year. The capital expenditure to the end of the year was Rs. 5,60,483 (direct and indirect) against the estimated cost of Rs. 4,90,596. The scheme will irrigate about 10,000 acres of paddy in a tract subject to frequent scarcity.

6. The Midnapore Canal.—The canal consists of two weirs at Midnapore and Panskura, 69·75 miles of main and branch canals used both for irrigation and navigation purposes and 284·97 miles of distributaries. No capital expenditure was incurred on the canal during the year. The area irrigated was 51,541 acres as against 59,605 acres in the previous year. The receipts and working expenses were Rs. 2,17,341 and Rs. 2,14,682, respectively, the result being a net revenue of Rs. 2,659, as against the deficit of Rs. 4,813 of the previous year. The diminution in the area irrigated was due to the fact that most of the leases were not renewed during the year owing to the fall in the price of paddy and to copious and timely rainfall.

7. The Grand Trunk Canal Project.—The project has been held in abeyance.

8. The Hijili Tidal Canal.—This canal with the Terapakia Pass Khal, Palaboni khal and the khal leading to the Gewankhali lock entrance constitutes a navigation canal, 49¾ miles in length. No capital expenditure was incurred on the canal during the year. The receipts and working expenses amounted to Rs. 55,971 and Rs. 91,707, respectively, as against Rs. 67,668 and Rs. 1,04,286 in the preceding year. The fall in revenue was due to the general trade depression and to the closure of range No. I of the canal from the 24th February 1930 to 23rd May 1930 for silt clearance.

9. The Calcutta and Eastern Canals.—These consist of natural and artificial navigation channels about 834 miles long for maintaining communication between Calcutta and Eastern Bengal. There was no capital outlay on this system during the year. The receipts and working expenses amounted to Rs. 4,07,476 and Rs. 4,73,799, respectively, the result being a deficit of Rs. 66,323 as against the deficit of Rs. 1,84,008 in the preceding year. The financial results are likely to improve further when the work of reconstruction of certain bridges over the Calcutta Canal on which heavy expenditure is now being incurred, is finished.

10. The Sundarbans Steamer Route.—Which is about 350 miles long is being treated as a separate project from the Calcutta and Eastern Canals since 1924-25. Receipts on Capital account amounted to Rs. 12,091. The revenue receipts and working expenses amounted to Rs. 72,265 and Rs. 4,29,215, respectively, the result being a deficit of Rs. 3,56,950 as against Rs. 37,118 in the preceding year.

11. The Madaripur Bil Route.—Which is 38 miles in length connects the Modhumati and Kumar rivers in the Faridpur district. A capital expenditure of Rs. 1,43,825 was incurred during the year on this route, and the construction of locks and sluices was almost completed.

The revenue receipts and working expenses during the year were Rs. 3,02,891 and Rs. 2,95,852, respectively, the result being a net revenue of Rs. 7,039 as against a deficit of Rs. 1,95,972 in the preceding year.

12. Dredger Ronaldshay.—The accounts of this dredger have been separated from those of the Grand Trunk Canal and the expenditure on it classified as "unproductive" under the orders of the Secretary of State. The dredger was hired by the Government of India and was employed throughout the year on the Andamans Reclamation scheme.

The total capital outlay to end of the year amounted to Rs. 50,33,596. The hire realised during the year on account of work done by the dredger amounted to Rs. 4,74,135 of which Rs. 4,30,335 was credited to capital account and the remainder to the revenue account. The working expenses during the year exclusive of hire charges amounted to Rs. 21,628.

13. Dredgers "Cowley" and "Burdwan."—The total capital outlay on the two dredgers to end of the year amounted to Rs. 61,06,324. The hire realised during the year on account of work done by the dredgers amounted to Rs. 66,663 of which Rs. 60,757 was credited to capital account and the remainder to the revenue account. The working expenses during the year exclusive of hire charges amounted to Rs. 61,978.

14. Minor Irrigation, Navigation, Embankment and Drainage Works for which neither Capital nor Revenue Accounts are kept.—These include Eden Canal, Amjore Weir, Orissa Coast Canal, Nadia rivers, Magrahat drainage scheme, Government Embankment, Surveys and other works enumerated in paragraph 9. The total working expenses on these works during the year amounted to Rs. 12,96,609 against Rs. 14,10,436 in the previous year.

15. Surveys.—Surveys and investigations were continued during the year in connection with certain irrigation works in Western Bengal and also in connection with the drainage problems of the northern and other districts of the Presidency. Among these were (1) preliminary survey of Darkeswar reservoir project in Bankura, (2) detailed survey of Suvankar Danra project in Bankura, (3) detailed survey of the Bansloi Irrigation scheme in Birbhum, (4) survey of Ajoy Canal scheme in Burdwan, (5) Observation of hydraulic conditions of the Malda district, (6) investigation in connection with North Bengal Flood and (7) survey and investigation in connection with the erosion of the Noakhali Khal.

16. General economic condition.—The rainfall in the catchment areas of all the rivers during the year was normal. The outturn of crop was also satisfactory and better than that of the previous year. But the general economic conditions of the country were not favourable on account of the general trade depression and fall of prices of all commodities which also accounted for the decrease in the navigation receipts.

By order of the Governor in Council,

H. C. V. PHILPOT,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Dacca, the 15th April 1932.

Monthly Weather and Crop Report of Bengal for March 1932.

I. Character of the season.—During the month under review, the rainfall was much below the average throughout the province except in Dacca, Bakarganj and the Tripura State, where the fall was a little in excess.

The usual rainfall statement is appended.

II. Progress of agricultural operations.—Preparatory tillage for and sowings of jute and paddy could not progress satisfactorily in the low-land tracts of East Bengal owing to drought. Harvesting of spring crops was nearing completion. Planting of sugarcane progressed fairly.

III. State of standing crops.—The condition of standing crops was reported as fair on the whole.

IV. Prospects and probable outturn.—The prospects of summer til, sugarcane and other standing crops are not satisfactory owing to drought. The outturns of summer rice and tobacco are estimated at 75 and 93 per cent. of the normal, respectively, this year.

V. Damage to standing crops.—No damage to standing crops was reported from any part of the province.

VI. Condition of agricultural stock.—The condition of live-stock was fair. Stray cases of cattle-disease, however, were reported from ten districts of the province and from the Cooch-Bihar and Tripura States.

VII. Failure of pasturage and fodder.—Some insufficiency of fodder was reported from parts of Mymensingh only.

VIII. Prices of food-grains.—During the second fortnight of the month, the retail prices of common rice of the cheapest quality rose in four districts, fell in six and remained stationary in the rest of the Presidency. The prices ranged from 10 seers per rupee at Darjeeling to 16¼ seers per rupee at Malda.

IX. Condition of agricultural population.—The condition of agricultural population is, on the whole, fair, except in parts of Rangpur, Bogra, Pabna and Mymensingh, where distress continues to be reported.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS.

For the week ending on the 13th April 1932.

Summary.—Excepting slight showers in parts of the 24-Parganas and Chittagong, the weather continued dry throughout the Presidency. Cultivation of jute and paddy is being affected by the drought. Harvesting of spring crops is over. Condition and prospects of standing crops are not satisfactory on the whole for want of rain. RESOLUTION—No. 2431F.B.

Calcutta, the 25th April 1932.

In the last session of the Bengal Legislative Council several resolutions were tabled recommending to Government the desirability of appointing a Retrenchment Committee. The one that was actually put to the vote and carried without a division was moved by Mr. J. N. Gupta. It runs as follows:—

> "This Council recommends to the Government that a Committee of Retrenchment be appointed for the province to examine and consider all possible retrenchments of the administration both in the Reserved and the Transferred Sides, and to recommend to Government to take suitable action either in their own competence or by reference to the proper authority with a view to effect a substantial reduction in the cost of the administration."

On the 16th March the Hon'ble Mr. Marr informed the House that the present Government were in favour of appointing a Retrenchment Committee as early as possible, but they were of opinion that the final decision on this question must be left until the arrival of the new Governor.

(2) His Excellency the Governor in Council and acting with his Ministers having considered the recommendation of the Legislative Council is now pleased to appoint a Committee consisting of the following gentlemen:—

Mr. J. A. L. Swan, C.I.E., I.C.S., Chairman,

Mr. H. Birkmyre, M.L.C., and

The following are the terms of reference:—

His Excellency hopes that the Committee will be able to submit their report for the consideration of Government by the end of August next.

(3) ORDERED that a copy of this resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette and that a copy of the resolution be forwarded to all members of the Committee.

Bills introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 18th February, 1932 :—

L. A. BILL No. 13 OF 1932.

A Bill to remove disabilities affecting the untouchable castes of the Hindu community.

WHEREAS by usage and custom prevalent in the Hindu community certain castes of Hindus are regarded as untouchable and unfit for association ;

AND, WHEREAS, this imputed impurity imposes serious disabilities on such castes, injures their self-respect and general well-being, and deprives them of the benefit of institutions, foundations, conveniences and services dedicated to or maintained for public use ;

AND, WHEREAS, many Hindus believe that such imputed impurity is not in accordance with the true interpretation of the precepts of Hinduism and desire that the said disabilities should be removed ;

AND, WHEREAS, it is just and proper to relieve all such castes from the said disabilities, in order that such relief may tend to the promotion of the public welfare and the solidarity of the Hindu community ;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Hindu Untouchable Castes (Removal of Disabilities) Act, 193 .

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force on the 1st day of 193 .

No Hindu to be incapable by reason of his caste, of sharing benefit of trust, etc.

2. No person belonging to the Hindu community shall be deemed to be incapable, by reason of his caste, of sharing the benefit of a religious or charitable trust created for the general benefit of persons professing the Hindu religion, or of sharing the benefit of a convenience, utility or service dedicated to, or maintained or licensed for, the use of the general public, any custom or interpretation of the law to the contrary notwithstanding.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

1. This Bill is intended to remove the disabilities, too various to be detailed here, from which castes known as "untouchable" in Hindu society suffer. These disabilities mostly arise from custom. The preamble of the Bill states the grounds which have made its provisions necessary. To these grounds may be added the significant circumstance that British Indian adjudication, respectful as it often is of Hindu usages, has tended to confirm the customs, which have had the effect of excluding the untouchable classes from participation in the benefits of endowments in which it is but just, that they, as members of the Hindu community, should participate. One ruling of the Privy Council, in Sankaralinga Nadan and others (Appellants) and Raja Rajeswara Dorai and others (Respondents), reported in 35 Indian Appeals, page 176, has gone the length of laying down, with all the authority of that august tribunal and the eminent Judges who formed the Bench on that occasion, a rule, which in effect provides that the duty of the Trustees of a Hindu religious endowment is to follow the ancient custom : it is not for them to vary it, however unreasonable or antiquated it may be, if they endeavour to alter it, they may be guilty of a breach of trust.

2. The result of these rulings consequently is that it is difficult to obtain, through the medium of adjudication, a variation of the customs which prejudicially affect the untouchable classes, injure their self-respect, and deprive them of the benefits of association with other sections of the Hindu community. This has resulted in a disruption of the Hindu society, the extent of which tends to increase, causing irritation and embitterment. It is therefore thought desirable to have recourse to legislation, and with its aid to abolish all such objectionable customs, to the extent mentioned in the Bill. The Bill affects only those cases in which the bar against the untouchable classes arises by reason of custom and the endowment is a public one. The Bill will not affect private endowments, nor those where, by the express terms of their constitution, their benefits are confined to particular sections of the Hindu community or of the general public.

3. The Bill also provides for the removal of disabilities from which the untouchable classes suffer in the use of conveniences like public wells or services like tram cars, buses, etc., which are maintained or licensed for the use of the public.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 18th February, 1932:—

L. A. BILL No. 14 OF 1932.

A Bill to prevent the dedication of women to service in Hindu Temples in British India.

WHEREAS the practice of dedicating women as Devadasis for service in Hindu temples exists in many Provinces in British India;

AND WHEREAS such practice, however ancient and pure its origin, invariably serves at present as an initiation to a life of prostitution and results in such women adopting the profession of prostitution;

AND WHEREAS steps have been taken in some Provinces to discontinue such practice and it is now desirable and expedient to terminate it wherever it exists in British India;

AND WHEREAS the enfranchisement of lands held by such women on condition of service in temples will be an effective step in terminating such practice; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Prevention of Dedication of Devadasis Act, 193 .

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force on the 1st day of 193

Definitions.

2. In this Act, unless there is something repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) the expression "Devadasi" shall mean any Hindu unmarried woman who is dedicated to service in a temple; and

(b) the expression "temple" shall mean any place of worship, public or private.

Illegality of dedication of a Hindu woman a a Devadasi.

3. The performance, within the precincts of a Hindu temple or outside of any ceremony under whatever name or description, with reference to a Hindu woman, with or without her consent, intended or having the effect to dedicate her for service as a Devadasi in a Hindu temple, is hereby declared illegal and of no effect.

Marriage by a Devadasi.

4. Subject to the provisions of the laws by which she may be otherwise governed, a Devadasi may contract a marriage, and the same shall be regarded as valid, notwithstanding any law or custom declaring such marriage to be invalid by reason of her subjection to the ceremony mentioned in section 3.

Punishment.

5. Whoever performs, or permits, takes part in or abets the performance of any ceremony mentioned in section 3, shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to one year, or with fine or with both.

Liability to punishment under other laws.

6. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to prevent any person from being liable, under section 372 of the Indian Penal Code, or under any other law, to any other or higher punishment than is provided by this Act. XLV of 1860.

Enfranchisement of lands held by Devadasis.

7. (1) Where the remuneration for any service to be rendered by a Devadasi in a temple consists, in whole or in part, of lands or assignments of the revenue of lands, granted or continued by the British Government, the Local Government, in whose territory such lands may be situate, shall enfranchise the said lands, from the condition of such service, and substitute an adequate quit rent therefor, under such rules as it may prescribe in this behalf, and such enfranchisement shall take effect from the date to be fixed as hereinafter provided.

(2) Where the remuneration for such service consists, in whole or in part, of lands or the produce of lands, not falling under sub-section (1), the Local Government concerned shall direct the Collector of the District, in which such lands are situate, to determine the amount of rent payable in respect of such lands. The Collector shall, thereupon, after notice to the parties concerned, hold an inquiry and determine the amount of such rent.

(3) The Local Government shall prescribe rules, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, providing for the holding of such inquiry, the determination of the said rent, the payment of the costs of the proceedings, and all other matters relating thereto. The said rules shall be published in the local official Gazette and, within six months of such publication, shall be submitted for the approval of the Legislative Council of the Province and will become operative on receiving such approval, with or without amendments.

(4) The order fixing the quit rent under sub-section (1) or the rent under sub-section (2) shall be communicated to the parties concerned and published in the local official Gazette, and subject to any appeal which the rules to be prescribed by the Local Government under sub-section (3) may allow, the said order shall be final and shall not be liable to be contested in any Court of Law.

(5) The order fixing the quit rent or rent as aforesaid shall specify a date from which the order shall take effect, and the said lands shall be deemed to have been enfranchised from the condition of such service as and from the said date.

(6) From and after the said date,—

(a) the quit rent imposed under sub-section (1) shall be payable to the temple concerned, and, subject to such payment, the Devadasi concerned shall hold the land as her own ; and

(b) the assignment of revenue in respect of lands enfranchised under sub-section (2), as the case may be, shall be payable to the Devadasi concerned during her life and after her death to the temple concerned.

(7) From and after the said date, no obligation to render such service to the said temple shall be enforceable against the Devadasi concerned.

(8) No order passed under sub-section (1) or (2) shall operate as a bar to the trial of any suit or issue relating to the right to enjoy the land on which the quit rent or rent has been fixed as aforesaid.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In many provinces in India exists the practice of dedicating girls to Hindu temples for purpose of service to the idol. This is done in various ways, and under different names. The common notion, however, which influences the practice, is that the girl should become a "servant of God" (Devadasi) at a young age, remain unmarried for life, and devote herself to the service of the idol. Doubts have been expressed by experts whether this practice has any sanction in Vedic Hinduism. Many ascribe it to an aboriginal origin. But whatever its source or original purity, there is no doubt that, in recent times, the practice has degenerated mainly into a method of initiating young women to a life of immorality and prostitution, which, in many cases, becomes compulsory by reason of the cruel custom that a girl so dedicated cannot contract a valid marriage.

It is therefore highly desirable and expedient to terminate this practice and permit the girl to contract a valid marriage. Attempts have been made in the past to put an end to this practice, but they have been more or less indirect, and have not produced the desired result. Experience shows that the provisions of sections 372 and 373 of the Indian Penal Code have been evaded. Consequently, a few Provinces in British India like, e.g., Madras and the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, have been compelled to adopt legislative measures directly dealing with this evil. Likewise, the Mysore Government, after consulting expert opinion from the point of view of Hindu Shastras, thought it necessary to pass orders, as early as 1909, directing the exclusion of Devadasis from service in temples in the State, and also laying down the manner in which the cash emoluments or Inam lands attached to the said service should be treated. Similar provisions for the enfranchisement of such lands and emoluments have been adopted at Madras, and the time has now arrived for the passing of a comprehensive measure dealing with this evil wherever it exists in British India.

The Mysore Government observed in their order referred to above, that whatever might be the euphemism by which the true nature of the (dedication) ceremony was concealed, it had an intimate connection with the profession of a prostitute or dancing girl. They were therefore not prepared to allow the performance of such a ceremony in the State temples and were satisfied from the depositions and the opinions of the authorities concerned that no hardship would be caused by the prohibition of such ceremonies in temples. This is indeed very high and valuable testimony, proceeding as it does from a Government over which an enlightened Hindu Ruler presides, and which had singular opportunities of consulting Shastric authorities and the Hindu sentiment relating thereto.

Since the passing of the foregoing order by the Mysore Government public opinion has more strongly insisted on the suppression of this evil, and several appeals have been addressed to the British Government and the moral sense of the Hindu Community by men and women associations, including a few in which enlightened members of the Devadasi community whole-heartedly joined.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 18th February, 1932 :—

L. A. BILL No. 15 OF 1932.

A Bill to amend the Hindu Law of Inheritance.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Hindu Law of Inheritance ; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title, extent and application.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Hindu Inheritance (Amendment) Act, 193 .

(2) It extends to the whole of British India including British Baluchistan and the Sonthal Parganas, but it applies only to persons who before the passing of this Act would have been subject to the law of Mitakshara in respect of the provisions herein enacted and it applies to such persons in respect only of the property of males not held in coparcenary and not disposed of by will.

Rank of son's widow in the order of succession.

2. A son's widow shall be entitled to rank in the order of succession next after the sister's son.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Act II of 1929 has modified the order of Inheritance under Hindu Law by letting in four heirs on the ground of their consanguinity to the deceased owner. When that Bill was under discussion it was made the subject of criticism on the ground that it did not go far enough and did not bring in the son's widow and other female heirs who following the test of propinquity should find a near place in the catena of heirs. The author of the Bill was aware of the omissions and had in his statement of objects and reasons explained that he had left them out to avoid the delay in its enactment which was sure to arise if it was recirculated.

The present Bill is intended to rectify a serious omission in Hindu Law and it is hoped that other omissions may be similarly rectified in due course.

Hindu Law regards the father, the son, the grandson and the great grandson as a single entity and their wives as the halves of their husbands. As such the grandson, the great grandson's widows must be allotted a place immediately after the son's widow. But the present Bill adopts a line of cautious advance and seeks to remove only what is universally recognised as a glaring defect in the Law.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Child Marriage Restraint (Amendment) Act of 193 .

(2) It shall extend to the whole of British India, including British Baluchistan and the Sonthal Parganas.

(3) It shall come into force from the 1st day of 19 .

Insertion of a new section in Act XIX of 1929.

2. After section 6 of the Child Marriage Restraint Act, 1929, the following new section shall be inserted, namely :— XIX of 1929.

Provision for solemnisation of marriages of children below the statutory age.

"6-A. (1) Whoever being the parent or guardian of either of the contracting parties has obtained an order from the principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction where the said parent or guardian, or either of the contracting parties, resides, permitting him to solemnise a marriage between the parties, both, or one of which are yet children, shall be allowed to proceed with their or his or her marriage, as the case may be, provided, if consummation will be allowed to take place before the statutory age, the parent or guardian availing of the permission, shall undertake to suffer the penalties prescribed in the Act.

(2) The parent or the guardian or either of the contracting parties performing a marriage under circumstances described in sub-section (1) shall be exempt from the punishment provided for."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Child Marriage Restraint Act, 1929, has made no provision whatsoever for cases where, for the sake of conscience, the parent or guardian of a child may insist upon performing his or her marriage before the statutory age. Nor has the Act provided for instances where a marriage of a child may have to be solemnised by reason of certain peculiarly unusual or exceptional family circumstances. It is, therefore, incumbent upon Legislature to provide for those cases in such an important legislation as affects all marital ties in the country. The object of the Bill is to include within the ordinary category cases which are actuated by pure conscience or are outcome of unusual or exceptional family circumstances.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 18th February, 1932 :—

L. A. BILL No. 17 OF 1932.

A Bill to repeal the Child Marriage Restraint Act, 1929.

WHEREAS it is expedient to repeal the Child Marriage Restraint Act, 1929 ; It is hereby enacted as follows :— XIX of 1929.

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Child Marriage Restraint (Repealing) Act, 193 .

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, including British Baluchistan and the Sonthal Parganas.

Repeal of Act XIX of 1929.

2. The Child Marriage Restraint Act, 1929, is hereby repealed. XIX of 1929.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Child Marriage Restraint Act of 1929 was originally introduced in the Legislative Assembly as a Bill to regulate marriages of Hindu girls under twelve years of age. The objects and reasons clearly show that the idea was to confine its operation and secure its alleged benefit to the Hindus and to achieve that object by declaring that marriages performed against the proposed provisions were invalid. When, however, it was found that both on religious and legal grounds it would be objectionable to interfere with the validity of marriages once performed, the original purpose was proposed to be achieved in the Select Committee by making the performance of such marriages criminal, by imposing penalties on those who participated in them and by naming the Bill as " Child Marriage Restraint Bill ". Such an alteration of a measure which was originally intended to be of a purely civil nature and accepted as such by the Assembly into a penal enactment and that in the case of a single community, was felt to be invidious, and this necessitated a further departure on the part of the Select Committee from the principle accepted by the Assembly by making it general in its scope, and applying it to all classes and communities in British India. In doing so, however, the committee was doubtful as to the propriety of materially amending as the Bill whose principle had been accepted by the Assembly, and of adopting the unusual step of substituting a new Bill of quite a different nature in the Select Committee, a step entirely opposed to Parliamentary practice and procedure, but they eventually justified their attitude upon ground somewhat inconsistent with their own recommendations regarding the further stages of the Bill, which it is unnecessary to dilate upon. The gratuitous extension of the measure to the Muhammadan community at that late stage in disregard of their protests created a serious complication, and in order to disarm the opposition of the Muslim Members of the Select Committee, the minimum marriageable age for girls was raised to 14 from 12 (and in some cases even 11 years), originally fixed in the Bill.

The result of the alteration above detailed was that the original object with which the Bill was introduced, viz., to protect the Hindu society from the many alleged evils that it was subject to was entirely lost sight of, and the caution with which the author of the Bill proposed to proceed in the matter by making the Bill agreeable to the most conservative Hindu opinion which holds the belief based on their religion that a girl should not remain unmarried after she attains puberty, was set at naught by insisting that there shall be no pre-puberty marriages among the Hindus except under pain of punishment. Every important community including the Muhammadans protested against this Bill, but it was passed in utter defiance of the virtually unanimous opposition of the country.

It is now admitted that a very wide feeling of resentment has been aroused in the minds of the great mass of population, both Hindus and Muhammadans, who are still wedded to their ancient culture and traditions by the passing of this measure, and that even politically it was a serious mistake. It is a well-known fact that numerous marriages in contravention of the provisions of the Act have been celebrated both by Hindus and Muhammadans even after their coming into force, and the Government have so far wisely taken a lenient view of the situation. But there are indications that their hands might be forced to strictly apply the provisions of the Act, especially in regard to the institution of prosecutions, with the result that the religious feelings and susceptibilities of the very large mass of the population otherwise peaceful and law-abiding would be seriously inflamed and redound on the country and the Government and thus become a political danger. It is absolutely necessary to prevent such a state of affairs.

The Act not only contravenes the fundamental principle of religious neutrality consistently held by the British Government as one of their "cardinal articles of faith", but it is also ultra vires of the Assembly inasmuch as it is repugnant to the provisions of section 18 of the East India Company Act, 1780 (21 Geo. II, c-70), and of section 12 of the East India Company Act, 1797 (37 Geo. III, c.-142).

It is further ultra vires inasmuch as the Governor General's sanction, even if it could be validly given to a measure of this nature was given for a Bill of the purely civil nature intended to apply to the Hindus alone and the present Bill which was a different and entirely new Bill as admitted by the Select Committee could not be covered by such sanction.

In the course of discussions both at the time of the final debate on the Bill and subsequently, much misapprehension existed regarding the true nature of a Muhammadan marriage on the ground that it was not a sacrament in the sense that a Hindu marriage is, but a purely civil contract. My own opinion had always been that the real basis of a Muhammadan marriage is religious, but in view of the controversy raging round the question, I considered it advisable not to mix up the two questions, and, therefore, gave notice last year of a Resolution to amend the Act by exempting the Muslim community from the operation of the Act. Since then, the Honourable the Law Member in the course of the debate on Dr. Gour's Bill has made the position clear by admitting and if I may respectfully say so, by rightly admitting that the fundamental basis of a Muslim marriage is religious sanction, and it is bound up with their religion which it was a mistake to suppose was a purely civil contract.

In view of this and the inherent nature of a Muhammadan marriage so ably pointed out by my friend, Maulvi Muhammad Yakub, M.L.A., in his dissenting Minute to the Age of Consent Committee Report, I felt no hesitation as to the course to be adopted. I have, therefore, framed this Bill by which I propose that the Child Marriage Restraint Act, 1929, be wholly repealed.

I would only venture to add that it is impossible for the true Hindu whose law is based on the Vedas, Smritis, and other sacred books, and is believed to have a transcendental origin, or for the true Muhammadan who believes that his sacred books lay down a complete set of their codified laws including socio-religious matters, to agree that such a law can be changed by the Legislature of the country and by the votes of men, and a good many of whom have no real faith in their religious and social organisation, and who, therefore, have no proper aptitude for judgment from a truly Hindu or Muhammadan point of view or have otherwise no sufficient sympathy for, or technical knowledge, or mental equipment for the purpose. Democracy, even in its modern sense, was never meant for the effectuation of radical changes in the socio-religious systems of the Hindus, Muhammadans or any other communities which take revelation as embodied in their Sacred Books as their socio-religious basis.

Repeal of sections 412, 413, 414 and 415 of Act V of 1898.

11. Sections 412, 413, 414 and 415 of the said Code are hereby repealed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Clauses 2, 3, 4 and 5.—The sections 30 and 34 of the Code of the Criminal Procedure, 1898, are applicable to all Non-Regulation Provinces. The accused charged with serious offences are not satisfied with the trial held before Magistrates who are especially empowered under these sections. In most cases the Magistrates in their zeal to show, what they term good disposal, hurriedly proceed with the trial with the result that cool and calm consideration of the facts of the case is not possible as is actually the case in Sessions trials. As the administration is being reformed, it is desirable that standard of Judicial administration be also raised in these Provinces in order to inspire greater confidence in the courts.

Clause 6.—Section 103 of the Code is practically a dead letter. The word 'locality' has been judicially interpreted as not to mean the same quarter of the town as the place searched and it has been ruled that the stress is on the word respectability and not on the word locality. This has led to the view that failure to call inhabitants of the locality as witnesses does not make a search illegal (21 Madras 83). This could hardly have been the intention of the framers of this section. In order to remove this ambiguity it is proposed to substitute the word 'vicinity' and add sub-section (6). This sub-section will not permit the admission of evidence if the provisions of section 103 are not strictly complied with. The object of these provisions has been stated to be as aiming against possible chicanery and unfair dealings on the part of the officers conducting the searches and was made to ensure confidence that any thing incriminating which may be found in the premises searched shall really be found and shall not be planted. This section really contemplates the presence of two respectable witnesses of the locality unconnected with the Government and its officers (4 Cr. L. J. 390). The present amendment is intended to invalidate the search if not conducted strictly in accordance with the provisions of this section.

Clause 7.—In the recent political trials the provisions of section 167 relating to the remanding of the accused to the Police custody have been much abused. In most cases the Magistrates were taken to the place where the accused were detained and without seeing the accused wrote the orders of remand. In some cases accused and their relations tried in vain to be heard but they were invariably refused the right of being heard. The proposed amendments aim at removing this complaint.

Clause 8.—The cases have arisen where justice demanded that the personal appearance of the accused be dispensed with, but the section 205 stood in the way. The courts had to circumvent these provisions by adopting the procedure of first cancelling the warrants and then ordering the issue of the summons in order to make the section to cover the case. The proposed amendment will bring the law in conformity with the established practice.

Clause 9.—The amendment of section 386 is intended to do away with a hardship. If the Magistrate thinks that the accused is rich enough to pay fine, he need not pass a sentence of imprisonment in default of fine, while if the accused, in the opinion of the Magistrate, is unable to pay the fine he should order imprisonment in default. In case the accused undergoes this sentence he should not be further harassed by attachment of his property otherwise the provision involves a double penalty.

Clause 10.—This clause is necessary because of the fact that District Magistrate himself in most cases initiates proceedings for keeping the peace. To expect him to do justice in appeal is really expecting too much from human nature. So long as District Magistrate occupies the position as the head of the Police and of the executive authorities of the District these appeals should not be heard by him.

Clause 11.—Sections 412, 413, 414 and 415 are anomalous. If an accused has rightly pleaded guilty the right of appeal allowed would not much benefit him. But if on the other hand his plea of guilty is only a pretence to save some guilty relations it will be in the interest of justice that such a dishonest plea should be examined in the appeal and the convicted person if innocent should be given a chance of securing liberty. Similarly section 413 has given rise to fantastic results. A Sessions Judge can remit a fine witout a limit but in cases where the fine is less than Rs. 50 and he is of opinion that the conviction is not justified he must recommend remission of fine to the High Court. This wastes the time of two highest tribunals and at the same time encourages irresponsibility in the Magistrate. Similar observations mutatis mutandis apply to section 414. Hence these repeals are suggested.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 18th February, 1932 :—

L. A. BILL NO. 19 OF 1932.

A Bill to amend the Child Marriage Restraint Act, 1929.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Child Marriage Restraint Act, 1929 ; it is hereby enacted as follows :— XIX of 1929.

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Child Marriage Restraint (Amendment) Act, 193 .

(2) It extends to the whole of British India including British Baluchistan and the Sonthal Parganas.

Definition.

2. In this Act, " marital sacrament " means any ceremony connected with marriage, and is considered an essential part of the religion, or the religious practice, or usage of any community, or sub-community in British India, and is performed according to the rituals regarded by that community or sub-community as sacred and binding.

Exemption of Brahmins and others from the operation of Act XIX of 1929.

3. Nothing contained in the Child Marriage Restraint Act, 1929, shall be deemed to apply to a marital sacrament or a marriage, solemnised, or performed in accordance with the religion, or the religious practice or usage among Brahmins, Vaishyas, Sourashtras and other communities among whom post-puberty marriages are forbidden by their religious usage, or custom, or both. XIX of 1929.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to exempt Brahmins, Vaishyas, Sourashtras and other communities, in which post-puberty marriage is forbidden by their religious usages, or customs, or both, from the operation of the Child Marriage Restraint Act, 1929, and thus allay to some extent the strong feeling which the provisions of the Act have admittedly engendered in the country. Among these communities what is generally regarded as marriage is an irrevocable betrothal with all the effects of a valid marriage. The Garbhadhanam or consummation ceremony, which is performed when the girl and the boy begin to live as man and wife, is a distinct Samskara, and it can only be performed after the attainment of puberty by the girl, and never before that. Even then the Smrithis and Grihiya Sustras lay down strict rules for its performance, the days of approach, etc. The Shastras relating to marriage definitely prohibit post-puberty marriage (betrothal) in the case of the Dwijas, under pain of severe penalties which could not be cured by any expiatory ceremonies. They further provide that it is essential that such marriages should in the case of girls be performed between the ages of eight and ten, and in any case, before the appearance of the menses. It is a well known and admitted fact that girls in this country attain puberty between the ages of twelve and thirteen, while in Madras and Bengal, it very often occurs, even one year earlier. Consequently, the provision in the Act making marriages below the age of fourteen years penal, irrespective of whether consummation does or does not take place, renders its performance among Hindus compulsorily post-puberty. Such marriages being strictly forbidden (as stated above), the Act is a direct interference with the religious beliefs and observances of the Hindus, and is a clear violation of the solemn pledges of non-interference with religion made for over a hundred years. It is, indeed, a clear declaration on the part of the Legislature and the Government that the Hindu community is no longer free to act up to its religious injunctions, except under the risk of being imprisoned, or deprived of its property. The Legislative Assembly composed of Members of different creeds and faiths, and brought together for a purely secular purpose was not competent to interfere with the personal law of one section of the community, where it is governed by religious injunctions and sanctions. Indeed, the Age of Consent Committee admitted, though in a halting manner, that the Legislative Assembly was not representative enough to pass an Act of this nature but felt itself justified in upholding its competence on the ground that there was no alternative body. In this connection it is worthy of note that the minimum limit of fourteen years was fixed in the Act, not out of regard to any necessity to prevent the physical and moral deterioration of the Hindu community, as was stated to be the object of the Bill, and for which, by the way, a limit of even eleven years was considered as a sufficient minimum, but as a price to purchase Muhammadan acquiescence in their inclusion within the scope of the Bill.

Since the assumption by the Crown of the Government of India, the various attempts that were made to interfere with the Hindu marriage laws and customs were strenuously resisted by the Government spokesmen, chiefly on the ground, that in the matter of Hindu marriage, Hindu religion has been recognised as a personal law, and should not therefore be interfered with. In fact, one of them, perhaps, the most eminent, stated from his place in the Council that with the Hindus, " marriage and religion are two words for the same thing ". As a result of such opposition such attempts invariably fell through, or were confined to dissenting communities. Even the Age of Consent Committee admitted that it has been the practice of the Indian Legislature to confine its attention to secular matters, and not to concern itself with the religious affairs and that where a custom was stated to be based on religion, the Legislature never dealt with it with a view to change the religious practices, which it left severely alone. They further conceded that the fact that the Legislature has on several occasions trenched on the Law was no justification for further inroads into that Law and custom.

Moreover, every time a Marriage Law was attempted to be interfered with, Government invariably insisted that it was a condition precedent to their acceptance of the measure that there should be a reasonable body of evidence (in the early days they insisted on an overwhelming majority) to show that the community affected desired the change, the latest pronouncement being that of Sir Brojendra Mitter, when he stated early this year that " if the community which is affected by this measure generally favours it Government will not stand in the way of its passing into Law ". No evidence was placed before the Assembly to show that the community affected favoured the measure. Certainly no such demand was made for enacting the Law, except, perhaps, by impatient social reformers and those politicians who were obsessed with the fear of otherwise losing the good will of the Western civilised world, and the chance of India attaining self-Government if the Bill was not actively supported. Nor did Government consult the heads of religious instutions, Matadhipathies, or even their Mahamahopadyayas, though they consulted Christain Divines, the bar associations, and social reform parties with pronounced hostile views, et hoc genus omne. There was thus no justification for Government's support to the measure, either on principle or policy. The contention that it was a non-official measure brought by an elected Member for which Government were in no way responsible is highly fallacious, as no such measure can be introduced without the Government's sanction, and the great mass of the population which follows their ancient Dharma for whom, Sir Reginald Craddock asserted they were trustees, are entitled to be protected against reckless interference with the rules and injunctions of that Dharma. This position was indeed admitted by Sir William Vincent that so long as the present form of Government remains, it would be idle for Government to get rid of responsibility in the matter.

Then again, the original Bill which was of a civil nature ought not to have been transformed into a penal enactment in the Select Committee, and still treated as the original Bill, without withdrawing and reintroducing it in the Assembly. It is, certainly, against all Parliamentary precedents. Incidentally it also exposes the illusory nature of the safeguard of the Governor General's previous sanction to Bills of this nature. Further, the Act is repugnant to the provisions of section 18 of the East India Company Act, 1780 (21 Ges. III, C. 70) and of section 12 of the East India Company Act, 1797 (37 Ges. 11, C. 142), which two sections of the said two Statutes have been maintained by section 130 of the Government of India Act, as continuing in force without modification. Apart, therefore, from other considerations, the Act is ultra vires the Indian Legislature and is, therefore, void.

The system of marriage obtaining in this country for ever so long a period as the memory of man runneth, not to the contrary, is wrongly called "Child Marriage" and condemned on that ground. It has, as a general rule, produced a healthy and intelligent race, which has even aroused the envy of other nations. The latest conclusion of Western scientists is in favour of pre-puberty betrothal and early post-puberty consummation as being both biologically and sociologically the soundest principle to govern the marriage systems of any country. According to Prof. Einstein human conduct cannot be guided by the light of scientific teaching as is held by Eugenicists and Behaviourists. It has been found by the Age of Consent Committee that in Burma where hardly a girl is married before fifteen years, above 200 infants die per 1,000 births, and the rate of mortality is far more than in Bihar and Orissa, the most early marrying part of India. They further found that in some provinces the sequence of cause and effect between early marriage and maternal and infantile mortality does not hold good. The witnesses who appeared before that Committee admitted that infantile mortality among the Brahmins was the lowest though they are said to be the worst sinners in this respect, and that it was the largest among Christians and other classes among whom there was no child marriage. In view, however, of the fact that it was strenuously contended that a major portion of the population is already practising post-puberty marriage and is, therefore, not affected by the Act, provision has been made in this Bill to exclude only those communities who consider that post-puberty marriage is prohibited by their religious laws and usages.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 18th February, 1932 :—

L. A. BILL No. 20 OF 1932.

A Bill to amend the Child Marriage Restraint Act, 1929, for certain purposes.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Child Marriage Restraint Act, 1929, for certain purposes; It is hereby enacted as follows :— XIX of 1929.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Child Marriage Restraint (Amendment) Act, 193 .

(2) It extends to the whole of British India including British Baluchistan and the Sonthal Parganas.

(3) It shall come into force immediately.

Amendment of section 1, Act XIX of 1929.

2. To sub-section (3) of section 1 of the Child Marriage Restraint Act, 1929, the following Exception shall be added, namely :— XIX of 1929.

"Exception.—The provisions of this Act shall not apply to persons professing the Muslim religion in any province of the British India."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

1. The Child Marriage Restraint Act (XIX of 1929) is faced, viewed and regarded by large sections of the Muslim community in all the provinces of the British India as opposed to the tenets of, and practices enjoined by the Muslim religion. The social conditions obtaining in the country also have rendered, as proved by the actual experience, the application of the Act to the Muslim community, a great source of unnecessary irritation and annoyance, and the feelings of the people are very much excited, ultimately resulting into distrust, and have created serious discontent among large sections of the Muslims against the provisoins of the Act and therefore it is expedient to allay the discontent.

2. Muslims have got their own law of inheritance and marriages among them are performed according to Shariat and the Shariat has laid down the principle guiding marriages.

3. The Government is the defender of the faith and since the British advent till now the policy of the Government has been one of non-interference in the matters of the religious and personal laws of the people of the country.

4. Social reform must be forced by the society itself. It is most undesirable that it should be forced by legislation. The spread of education will set right the defects of the society.

Under these circumstances to amend the law is extremely needed.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 18th February, 1932 :—

L. A. BILL No. 23 OF 1932.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Limitation Act, 1908.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend certain Articles of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908; It is hereby enacted as follows :— IX of 1908.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Limitation (Amendment) Act, 193 .

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Amendment of the First Schedule to Act IX of 1908.

2. In the First Schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, for the words "three years" occurring in the second column against Articles 52, 53, 54, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83 and 85, the words "six years" shall be substituted. IX of 1908.

Savings.

3. This Act shall extend the period of limitation of suits governed by the Articles of the First Schedule mentioned in section 2 of this Act, but shall not affect the suits pending on the date when this Act comes into force, nor shall it revive any remedy or proceedings or any release or discharge of or from any debt, claim, penalty, obligation, liability or demand already accrued.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The unprecedented economic depression in the country has materially affected the economic condition of half the debtor as well as the creditor. The proposed extension of the period of limitation of suits will go a long way in relieving the debtor from the costs of the litigation. It further helps the debtor from escaping the compound interest in case he gives fresh acknowledgment of his liability.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 18th February, 1932 :—

L. A. BILL NO. 24 OF 1932.

A Bill further to amend the law relating to private Trusts and Trustees.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the law relating to private Trusts and Trustees, for certain purposes hereinafter appearing ; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Indian Trusts (Amendment) Act, 193 .

Amendment of section 20, Act II of 1882.

2. For clause (d) of section 20 of the Indian Trusts Act, 1882, the following clause shall be substituted, namely :— II of 1882.

" (d) In debentures or other securities for money issued under the authority of any Act of a Legislature established in British India, by or on behalf of any municipal body, port trust or city improvement trust in any Presidency town or in Rangoon town or by or on behalf of the trustees of the port of Karachi or by or on behalf of the Municipality of Karachi."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

At present Trust monies can be invested only in the Bonds of a Municipal Body, Port Trust or City Improvement Trust in a Presidency Town or in Rangoon Town or in the Bonds issued by the Trustees of the Karachi Port. The Bonds of the Karachi Municipality rank equally with those of the bodies mentioned above and there is no reason why they should not be included in the list of recognised Bonds under the above Act. The Loans raised by the Municipality of Karachi are governed by the provisions of the Local Authorities Loan Act and the rules framed thereunder, and under these provisions the prior sanction of Government has to be obtained to the raising of the Loans. Such sanction is accorded after a careful examination of the financial position of the Municipality, their Loan liability and their resources. In the Draft Municipal Bill for Karachi similar safeguards have been provided. The Loans are secured on the revenues and assets of the Municipality and the payment of the interest and the Sinking Fund of such Loans constitute a first charge upon the Municipal Revenues.

2. The Municipality of Karachi possess large and valuable assets in their landed estate, their Water Works and Drainage Installation, etc. Furthermore, the accounts of the said Municipality are annually audited by the Government Examiner, Local Fund Accounts, which officer also examines and certifies the statements of the assets and liabilities of the Municipality. It will thus be seen that Government exercise control in the matter and adequate safeguards are provided.

3. The credit of the Municipality of Karachi has always been high. The Loans raised in the past have been usually oversubscribed and the rates have been favourable.

4. The Loans have been subscribed to in the past by Banks, Karachi Port Trust and leading Associations and individuals both in the province and outside.

5. The Trustees of the various funds have shown their willingness to invest the funds in their charge in the Debentures of the Municipality of Karachi and have been only precluded from doing so on account of the above enactment.

6. Karachi is not a Presidency Town, but on account of its Commercial importance and its position as a Seaport Town it deserves special consideration. This has already been admitted by recognising Bonds of a sister institution, viz., the Karachi Port Trust.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Minister-in-charge: The Hon'ble Mr. Bijoy Prasad Singh Roy.

No. 1058P.H. — 30th April 1932. — The following proceedings of the fifth meeting of the sub-committee about malaria in the vicinity of Calcutta held on the 19th March 1932 are published for general information in continuation of the proceedings published with this department notification No. 208P.H., dated the 28th January 1932:—

Proceedings of the fifth meeting of the sub-committee about malaria in the vicinity of Calcutta held on the 19th March 1932.

I. The following members of the sub-committee were present:—

(1) Dr. R. B. Khambata, Director of Public Health, President.

(2) Mr. R. Senior-White, Malariologist, Bengal Nagpur Railway.

(3) Dr. A. K. Adhikari, Malariologist, Eastern Bengal Railway, representing Chief Medical Officer, Eastern Bengal Railway.

(4) Dr. B. N. Ghosh, Chief Medical Officer, Messrs. McLeod & Co.

(5) Dr. S. N. Nandi, District Health Officer, 24-Parganas.

(6) Dr. P. S. Gupta, Health Officer, Budge-Budge Municipality.

(7) Dr. K. P. Mukharji, District Health Officer of Howrah, was absent.

II. Major Covell's summary and conclusions.—Anopheles stephensi, which is the only malaria carrying mosquito in India capable of adapting itself to the conditions obtaining in cities, is undoubtedly the transmitting agent of the disease in Central Calcutta. This species is breeding freely throughout the city, chiefly in cisterns and other receptacles for storing water. Except on rare occasions it does not breed in tanks which are probably of little importance as regards malaria in Calcutta. The breeding places of A. stephensi have been very much more numerous in recent years with the development of the water carriage system of conservancy and the enormous increase in the number of water connections.

Resolution 1 (a).—That as Major Covell has stressed that the chief sources of stephensi breeding in Calcutta are the cisterns for storing water, the Corporation of Calcutta be requested to work out a scheme with costs for mosquito-proofing the various types of cisterns on the lines suggested by Major Covell and that the Corporation be further requested to take necessary steps to carry out these alterations.

Resolution 1 (b).—That in future no cistern, which is not mosquito-proof, should be allowed to be installed.

Hitherto the situation as regards A. ludlowii has been kept under control by the Bengal Public Health Department, with the co-operation of the Garden Reach Anti-malaria Association and of the anti-malarial staff of the Bengal Nagpur and Eastern Bengal Railways. In order to cope with possible further developments it is of vital importance that the staff of the Bengal Health Department be immediately increased by the addition of two more survey units, and that it should be empowered to institute control measures at any point where these may be found necessary. It is recommended that a sum of Rs. 10,000 be set aside for control measures, in addition to the sum sanctioned in 1931, to be used should the need arise. A dozen rotary blowers, and six mixers for Paris Green should be purchased immediately and one ton of soft stone powder and a supply of Paris Green be held in readiness.

Resolution 2.—That this sub-committee, who have already passed a resolution advising an extension of the survey staff, reiterate the same and hope that the detailed proposals submitted by the Director of Public Health will be sanctioned by the Local Government.

Since it has been proved that country boats play an important part in the conveyance of A. ludlowii and the formation of new breeding foci by this species of mosquito, it is suggested that all such boats be inspected at Pratapnagar on the Bidyadhari river and at Falta on the Hooghly and their covers temporarily removed. This procedure would greatly minimise the danger of A. ludlowii being carried into the Salt Lake area from the direction of Port Canning, and up the Hooghly from the Sunderbans and Midnapore.

Resolution 3.—Considering the practical difficulties connected with the inspection of country boats at Falta and Pratapnagar, it is resolved that the whole question be examined and definite proposals framed by the Director of Public Health.

The flood-and-flush scheme for South Budge-Budge recently submitted by the Chief Engineer, Bengal Health Department, which has for its object the introduction of silt-laden water from the Hooghly into the breeding places in that area should be put in hand immediately.

Resolution 4.—That this matter be referred to the members of the committee for a local inspection and report.

It is suggested that a spleen census of municipal school children be made annually in the same month each year and the results recorded in the annual report of the Health Officer, Calcutta Corporation. It is also suggested that blood films be taken from 100 children in each ward of the city annually and examined for the presence of malaria parasites.

It is recommended that the medical officers in charge of dispensaries and hospitals in Calcutta be asked to keep a separate record of malaria cases considered to have acquired their infection locally, and that the police and military and railway authorities be asked to furnish similar information. The data thus obtained should be recorded in the annual reports of the Health Officer, Calcutta Corporation. These data, together with the records of spleen and blood examinations of children suggested in the preceding paragraph, would form a valuable index as to the incidence of malaria in different parts of the city from year to year.

Resolution 5.—This sub-committee draw attention of the Corporation of Calcutta and the railway representatives on this committee to the above paragraphs of Major Covell's conclusions and request them to take necessary actions.

III. Dr. Sur's inspection notes on the prevalence of anopheles ludlowii at (1) Hasnabad, (2) Port Canning (1st and 2nd note) and (3) Bansra and Manshapukur.

Resolution 6.—The inspection notes are read and approved and the sub-committee think that those breeding places from which adult ludlowii are migrating to Calcutta should be given priority in taking up control measures.

IV. The South Budge-Budge and Pujali flood-flush drainage scheme as drawn up by Mr. Griffin, the Chief Engineer, Bengal Public Health Department.

Resolution 4 covers this item.

V. The flushing scheme for the Chengail station area as drawn by the District Engineer of Howrah.

Resolution 7.—The committee recommend that the Bengal Nagpur Railway authorities be requested to examine the plan handed over to their representative on the committee and take steps to carry the scheme into effect.

VI. Reports on the progress made in the control and survey work during the months of January and February 1932 by Drs. Ghosh and Sarkar.

Resolution 8.—Reports were read and approved.

Griffin, Chief Engineer, Public Health Department, Bengal, is allowed leave for four months and twelve days, viz., leave an average pay for two months and twenty-six days and leave on half average pay for the remaining period, with effect from the 20th May 1932, or any subsequent date from which he may avail himself of the leave, under rule 81 (b) (i) and (d) of the Fundamental Rules.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE.

RESOLUTION.

TARIFFS.

New Delhi, the 9th April 1932.

No. 341-T. (150).—By the Cotton Textile Industry (Protection) Act, 1930, protective duties were imposed on cotton piecegoods for a period of three years in order to give the cotton mill industry in India temporary shelter against foreign competition. These duties are fixed at a lower rate on piecegoods of British than on those not of British manufacture. By the same Act the operation of the duty imposed by the Indian Tariff (Cotton Yarn Amendment) Act, 1927, was extended for a further period of three years on account of the unfair competition arising from the prevalence of inferior labour conditions in China. These duties will expire on the 31st March 1933. An assurance was, however, given by Government to the Legislature, when the Cotton Textile Industry (Protection) Bill was under consideration, that before the termination of the three-year period the effect of the duties on the production of cotton piecegoods in India and on the Indian cotton textile industry would be examined in a Tariff Board enquiry.

2. Since the Cotton Textile Industry (Protection) Act was passed three noteworthy changes have occurred. In the first place, the rates of duty imposed on cotton piecegoods under the Act have been raised by two successive Finance Acts, and are now levied at a rate substantially higher than the Legislature found to be necessary to give temporary shelter to the indigenous industry. In the second place, a very large increase has occurred in the imports of piecegoods made wholly or partly of artificial silk, and the duties on such goods have been raised to the rates applicable to goods made wholly or partly of real silk. Finally, the Government of India have decided to discuss at the forthcoming Imperial Conference at Ottawa the question whether Great Britain and India should enter into a trade agreement embodying a preferential tariff regime so designed as to benefit the trade of both countries.

3. The Government of India consider that the Tariff Board enquiry should now be undertaken. The Board is requested to examine the following questions and to make recommendations:—

(1) Whether the claim of the Indian cotton textile industry to protection has been established;

(2) If the claim is found to be established, in what form protection should be given and to what extent;

(3) If it is proposed that protection should be given by means of import duties—

(a) whether the same rate of protection is required against the competition of goods manufactured in the United Kingdom as against the competition of goods manufactured elsewhere; and

(b) what rates of duty are recommended in respect of—

(i) cotton piecegoods,

(ii) piecegoods made wholly or partly of artificial silk, and

(iii) cotton twist and yarn, according as they are manufactured—

A. in the United Kingdom,

B. elsewhere.

In making its recommendations the Tariff Board will take all relevant considerations into account including that stated in part (b) of the Resolution adopted by the Legislative Assembly on the 16th February 1923. In particular, the Board is requested to consider how its recommendations will affect the handloom weaving industry.

4. Firms or persons interested who desire that their views should be considered by the Tariff Board should address their representations to the Secretary to the Board.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the above Resolution be communicated to all local Governments and Administrations, all Departments of the Government of India, the Director General of Commercial Intelligence and Statistics, the Central Board of Revenue, the Indian Trade Commissioners, London and Hamburg, the Secretary, Tariff Board, the High Commissioner for India, London, His Majesty's Trade Commissioner in India, the Canadian Trade Commissioner in India, all Chambers of Commerce and Associations, the French Trade Commissioner in India, Burma and Ceylon and the Secretary, Imperial Council of Agricultural Research.

Ordered also that it be published in the Gazette of India.
